About Fox Soccer Academy

Fox Soccer Academy is a year-round program that provides soccer training based on a curriculum designed by our founder, Christian Fuchs, who had a 19-year professional soccer career, and is now Charlotte FC's assistant coach in the MLS.

A Person-Centric Approach

We are a person-centric academy. We aim to educate well-rounded players on the field by focusing on the person off the pitch. It is important for us to create relationships of trust with our players, which should go beyond player/coach only.

How We Define Success

Success to us is not necessarily winning games, it is the willingness to improve on a daily basis, to be competitive, and to develop players within our game model. We look to improve our players to be able to take on any team, home or away, and play our style. The better we play, the more we dominate games through our structure, the higher the chances will be to win.

Boys Academy

Fox Soccer Academy provides a platform for ambitious and talented players to compete on a development and competitive level. Our tiered system from U13-U17 allows us to move players between rosters based on their developmental phase and current needs of the player. Starting U18, players might have the opportunity to train with our UPSL senior team. Several players from our academy already had training opportunities with our FSA PRO senior team, which plays in the Premier Division of the UPSL, and some have made a successful transition into the first team with regular game time in senior soccer.

Tryout Location: Hudson Sports Complex, 122 State School Rd, Warwick, NY 10990
Our boys' teams compete in the UPSL, NYCSL, and EDP leagues.
